Toy bar with figures supports your child's motor skills
Depth-adjustable and removable food tray with cup molding and elevated edge

One for all. This 3in1 high chair combo is a true all-rounder thanks to the newborn attachment that can be used universally. No matter whether on eye-level with the family when at the table or in the apartment when playing, Sit'n Relax 3in1 is a long-lasting companion.

Eating on eye-level - right from birth. In the ergonomically formed newborn attachment, your little offspring is sure to feel safe from the very beginning thanks to soft, cosy and breathable fabrics. And thanks to the high chair's height-adjustment, your little one will be on eye-level with the family at all mealtimes. This gives you also the possibility of feeding him or her in a back-friendly manner. In addition, the backrest can be adjusted so as to reach the right position in the newborn high chair. And after eating, it's playtime. Your little one will grab and play with the cute pendants on the mobile and, therefore, make movements that support the development of your child's motor skills.

Rocking and playing. When your little offspring wishes to have some change, you can fix the baby attachment on the rocker base that is included. This way, your treasure can continue playing with its siblings on the floor. You can choose between letting the rocker bob up and down or stand firm.

Children's high chair - eating just like a big one. Once your offspring can sit alone, you may use the high chair attachment. The backrest and footrest, as well as the food tray are adjustable in height or depth, and can be therefore adapted to your child's height. In addition, the food tray has an elevated border and two practical cup moldings for everything to stay where it should. However, should something spill over, the superior tray element may be removed and cleaned. The 5-point harness and the middle bar integrated in the seat give your child a strong hold. Toys and other things can be stored away in the basket below the seat where you will have them ready at hand.

Flexible. Thanks to the casters, Sit'n Relax 3in1 can be moved from one room to another. And when not needed, it can be folded down and stored away.
